

A is for Albert, Axel, Agnes and Art
B is for the Bills, Loughton and Barth.

C, is for Corrie, who from us did roam
And now teaches dumbells, far from home.

Also for the Charlies three
Without whom we could never be.

D is for Darlings, of which you are many
(How don't you all think you owe me a penny?)

E is for Esther, fair and shy,
Also for Elmer, the cynical guy.

F is for Frances, tall and sedate,
Who never for a hike is late.

Now we have the letter G
Which doth stand for Granlunds three.

H is for Harold, of whom we are proud,
Whose praises we sing both long and loud.

I stands for Irma, the life of the party
Who, however clever, is never a smarty!

J means our John, the best of us all and Josephine Rhodes and Johanna Hall.

K is for kwickstep with which we start out
Which never would do if we had the gout!

L is Luverneand Lawrence bold
Who often naughty stories told.

M is the Much I Miss you
Stands for Marie and Mildred too.

N is the Noon we hail with glee
When we're dead tired and hun-ger-ee.

O is for Oney, the "handsome brute"
And who is dreadfully hard to suit.

P is for Planting, the name of our "Dad"
Who likes us whether we're good or bad.

Q are the Quarrels which sometimes occur
But do we patch them, Yes, Sir!

R is for Ruby the Rankin stout
Whose hiking ability we need not doubt.

S is for Susie, who went away,
And for the sorrowful tears she sheds each day.

T is for Teddy Stokes, who trails
With the "Goats" o'er hills and dales.

U is for Useful, which we always are,
And we never the beauties of nature mar.

V is for Vivian, so full of pep,
Who never yet made a misstep.

W stands for Willie Weis,
And Winifred W., who fears mice!

X Y Z
Let those three be

They mean the words we long to use
When we break the shoestrings in our shoes!
